ELDER BEAGLEY WRITES FROM LONDON

Through President Hilton, Elder King E. Beagley extends greetings to his friends here in the following letter:

Dear President Hilton:

As the year 1938 draws to a close, I should be most remiss not to give some report of this year's activity, that you may know what has been accomplished here in the London district. The expectation was not reached in our number of converts, as we planned it last year, but I feel we have spread the Gospel and brought its leavening influence into the lives of almost forty people whom we have baptized this year, and have some half dozen more whom we feel will enter the Church soon. Our elders have spoken in other churches—in one they take the Sunday school regularly where more than 50 boys and girls meet, also before clubs, mainly of young people. We have held series of lectures on different phases of the Gospel, and feel that many have heard the truth. Our elders have conducted open air meetings five nights each week—weather permitting—and usually to fine groups, our crowds in warm weather reaching a total of four hundred and more, most of whom ask intelligent questions. Our usual speaking place—Hyde Park—has many speakers of different denominations and many are attracted to our platform by the sincerity, honesty and humility of our speakers. Many have told me of their observations of our elders.

I have been in England 21 months, the past 16 in London, all of which I have enjoyed thoroughly and know of no time in my life when there has been the happiness that has come to me through this Gospel. I have met several families of relatives here in London, and hope that some of them will recognize the truth of it before I return home. It will be necessary for me to remain several months to do the genealogical work I would like to, then, too, is the annual conference in June, held this year in Sheffield and I should like to stay for that.

Out of the experience of the months here, there has come an assurance of this Gospel's truths, that I can hug it closer to my bosom than ever, and see the wisdom and purpose of life, and why this Gospel was given to man. There has come an abiding faith that I feel nothing can shake, for which I thank God. I know of no time I would rather be in this mission than now, and feel that from the spiritual guidance of our leaders here, I will be more firmly entrenched in the truth than ever before, and no matter how severe the storm the foundation will hold.

Am very happy to note the growth of the

BISHOP CARR OF CLAREMONT WARD RELEASED

First Counselor

Retiring Bishop

New Bishop

Second Counselor

By reason of ill health, Bishop Charles C. Carr was released as the head of Claremont ward, the Stake's newest, on Sunday evening, December 18th. Sustained to succeed him was Reed H. Chase, his first counselor.

Bishop Carr has not been in good health for some time, and when he was chosen to oversee the important business of organizing the new ward, it was with the understanding that he would be relieved if the strain should become too great. Bishop Carr threw himself into the work with such vigor and enthusiasm that he soon had the new ward going in splendid shape, with a spirit among its members that will carry them far. The strain of this was too much, however, with his other work, with the result that he was confined to his bed in mid-December. THE MESSENGER is happy to report, however, that he is on the road to recovery, and is up and around once more.

Bishop Carr has had the unique privilege of being the first bishop of two wards in this Stake—Oakland and Claremont—besides serving for a number of years as a high councilman and as president of the Stake mission.

Bishop Reed H. Chase, who succeeds him, is the youngest bishop in the Stake. He has been living in California since 1922, coming from Provo, Utah, originally. He has been consistently active in Church service, having been Stake president of the M. I. A., member of the elders' quorum presidency, member of the Mormon Male Chorus, a Stake missionary, first counselor to Bishop Norberg of Oakland and later to Bishop Carr of Claremont, and for a time business manager of THE MESSENGER.

First counselor to Bishop Chase will be A. Selden Millward, who steps into that position from the second counselorship. Elder Millward has been a resident of Berkeley since 1921, coming here from Grantsville, Utah. He was the first foreign missionary from Oakland branch, serving two years in the eastern states, where he was president of the Rochester district. Since his return he has been Stake Sunday school superintendent, and ward superintendent of M. I. A. In 1934 he was married to Roberta Hammond in the Salt Lake Temple.

On December 25th, Bishop Chase's second counselor was chosen, together with a new ward clerk. Richard W. Owens, the new second counselor, was born in Ogden, Utah, November 18, 1913, a son of W. W. Owens and Clotilda Woodyatt. He is a graduate of the Utah Stake Agricultural College and at present is doing graduate work at the University of California. Before coming to Berkeley he was very active in Church work, filling a three-year mission to Switzerland and Germany and presiding over the Bremen and Hanover districts. In 1936 he was married to Margaret Watkins in the Logan Temple. Since the organization of Claremont ward he has served as its clerk, in which position he is succeeded by Elder Thomas Birchall.

Oakland Stake, with its new ward and other improvements, and pray that the Lord will continue to bless and guide you, that others may be attracted to the truth, that they, too, may make it a part of their lives, and receive the peace and happiness that comes from obeying its teachings.

With the approach of Christmas may I send greetings to you and the Stake members, that you may have the spirit of the Prince of Peace, and that the coming new year be one of happiness, of growth, both spiritually and in numbers added to the truth.

Sincerely your brother,

KING E. BEAGLEY.

STAKE PRESIDENCY'S
MESSAGE

Dear Brothers and Sisters:

We desire in this first message of the new year to sincerely thank our many friends who were kind enough to send cards and other greetings during the holiday season just passed. We appreciate these and all other evidences of loyalty and friendship to us as your servants in this great and conquering cause. May the Lord continue to bless our joint efforts in His great work during the coming year.

Although much has already been accomplished here in the Oakland Stake, much yet remains to be done to bring our Stake fully up to the standard which rightly should be expected of it. We list below a few items in which we believe improvement can be made.

In addition to properly carrying forward our regular duties, we specifically call to your attention the need for improvement in the following areas:

1. A definite increase in the number of full time missionaries.
2. Assumption of greater responsibility and increased activity on the part of priesthood quorums.
3. Extend and make more effective our part in the Church welfare program.
4. Increased effectiveness in reaching out for and holding our youth.
5. Improving the quality of our classroom teaching.
6. More regular and faithful attendance at sacrament meetings.
7. Increased knowledge of the contents of the four volumes of scripture.
8. Increased spiritual growth and testimony of this great latter-day work in which centers the hope of humanity for ultimate peace, security and enduring joy.

We most earnestly urge a continuation of your faithful activity and in addition a diligent striving to improve in the specific fields indicated. Let each of us increase the quality and amount of our service to humanity and thus partake more fully of the abundant life which the atonement of Jesus Christ and the restoration of His Gospel has made possible of us.

Faithfully yours,
EUGENE HILTON,
W. GLENN HARMON,
CLYDE J. SUMMERHAYS.

DEPENDABILITY

By ARCHIE INGER

(Editor's note: The following short talk was delivered to the Hayward ward Sunday school recently; it was deemed worthy of repetition at the Sunday school union meeting, where THE MESSENGER heard of it. It is worthy of being read and re-read, then filed away for reference and repeated re-reading.)

Dependable helpers are absolutely necessary to the success of any movement which includes the masses; and yet, strange as it may seem, persons imbued with this virtue are among the rarest of individuals, and when found they stand out as jewels upon the crown of human affairs. Not only in Church work, but in business institutions as well, a dependable person quickly wins his or her place as the idol and bulwark of those burdened with problems in public life.

A dependable person is one who has actually grown to maturity mentally. It is only children who cannot realize the importance of a responsibility.
That a man or woman has grown up physically, with years behind them, is not always a sign that emotional or mental maturity has been reached. The world is full of such children; and because they are negative and self-indulgent they must be treated as such by those in charge of important matters. They must be carefully and kindly excluded from important issues.

The success of our Sunday school, or of our Church, for that matter, must rest upon the finding of dependable teachers, without which good executives are helpless. And may I say in passing that irresponsible persons are, as a rule, the first to find fault.

Those known for their dependability are the givers among men—not the takers—and all the blessings we now enjoy, or ever shall enjoy have been and will be bestowed upon us through the struggles of such as they. Responsible people become the vessels of God's kindness and the guardians of salvation here upon the earth.
So, if it is humanly possible, let us not fail in our promises, that those who are chosen to preside over us may feel we are dependable.

extension plan was explained to the gathering.
Briefly, the plan calls for the coordination of the activities of the priesthood quorums and the Sunday school and M. I. A. A card index of every member of the Aaronic priesthood is to be kept on a ward basis, with vital information on activity, inactivity and pertinent factors.
Monthly meetings of ward extension plan committees are to be held to outline activities, follow-up on non-participating members, and consider vital problems. This committee is composed of the ward bishopric, Aaronic priesthood supervisors, teachers of the A, B and C departments in Sunday school and of the Scouts, Explorers and M Men in the M. I. A. A similar Stake committee will meet monthly on the fourth Sunday of each month, commencing January 22nd, at 1:30 p. m.

Youth meetings will be held in each ward on Sunday evening, January 15th, at which all the boys are urged to be present and a program of special interest is being prepared. High councilmen and Aaronic priesthood committeemen have been assigned to each ward to participate in and assist in these meetings.

WARD TEACHER'S MESSAGE

January, 1939

As we face a new year in troubled worlds, Latter-day Saints face another year of opportunity for service in the Church, for devotion to the principles of the Gospel and for demonstrations of appreciation for the blessings we have received.

We have been greatly favored in the year that has just ended. The horrors of war have been averted. Economic conditions could have been very much worse. As a rule, our members have enjoyed more than an average degree of health and prosperity.

The Church has made substantial progress.
New Stakes and Wards have been created; our membership has shown consistent growth; activity has increased in most Wards and Stakes; the Welfare Program has been advanced to an encouraging extent, and in general the Church has prospered and made splendid advancement.

We should all be grateful to our Father in Heaven for His many blessings and manifestations of kindness and mercy.

Now, another year opens before us. What experiences and developments it will bring we do not know. One thing, however, is certain: the New Year brings us opportunities for service and devotion to the Lord's work, for cooperation with our brethren and sisters of the Church and friends and neighbors of other churches, for overcoming our weaknesses and shortcomings, and showing our appreciation for the blessings we have received in the past by making every possible effort to live as true Latter-day Saints.

The New Year offers a new opportunity to make our lives square with the teachings of the Church, to improve wherein we have been remiss, to comply with the commandments of the Lord through regular attendance at Sacrament meetings, payment of tithing, respect for the Sabbath, observance of the Word of Wisdom, discharging our responsibilities in the Priesthood and in other organizations, observing family and individual prayer, living in harmony with our neighbors, dealing fairly in business affairs and in every way possible living as true Latter-day Saints.

It is suggested that Teachers encourage all members to examine their own activities of the past year and where improvement is desirable to begin with the New Year, making every effort to order their lives in conformity with the principles of the Gospel and the teachings of the Church.—December Era, p. 745.

PACIFIC COAST ECONOMIC ASSOCIATION HOLDS SESSIONS

The seventeenth annual conference of the Pacific Coast Economic Association was held at the University of California on December 28-29. Several church members from the intermountain region were in attendance, among them being Dr. Dilworth Walker of the University of Utah, Dr. M. W. Lee and Dean W. L. Wanlass of the Utah State Agricultural College, and Dr. Thomas A. Beal of the University of Utah. Drs. Walker and Lee led discussion groups. Drs. Beal and Wanlass are both past presidents of the Association.

STATISTICS FOR FIRST THREE QUARTERS RELEASED

Bulletins from the presiding bishop's office have been released for the period of the first nine months of 1938, showing the relative positions of Stakes in various fields of activity.

That 1938 has been a "depression" year is shown from the fact that sixty-five Stakes show a decrease in payment of tithing, while fifty-two show an increase. At the same time, sixty-four Stakes shown increases in the number paying tithing, while fifty-seven show a decrease. This indicates a wider interest in this fundamental doctrine. It is noteworthy, too, that in spite of the depression and in spite of the greater number of Stakes showing decreases, the total amount paid was nevertheless slightly greater (by 0.1%) than for the same period in 1937, and the number paying was greater (by 1.0%) than for the same period in 1937.

The relative position of Oakland Stake with the others is of interest. We showed an increase in amount of tithing paid of 3.7%, as well as an increase in number paying, 16%.

We are seventh as to increase in number paying, thirtieth as to increase in amount. In fast offering we show a decrease of 5.8% over last year, but this is explained in the fact that the same period last year saw a special fast Sunday, whereas this year our special fast Sunday will appear in the last quarter. The Stake is well above the Church average on the per capita of fast offering, with $0.479, but way behind San Francisco Stake which shows a per capita payment of $0.998 for the same period.
